

Montana's Disaster Psychological Health Professionals

Preliminary Survey Results

As part of the Public Health Emergency Preparedness deliverables local health jurisdictions were asked to share a survey with psychological health practitioners. Preliminary survey results are compiled in this infographic. The survey is open until September 30, 2016.

129

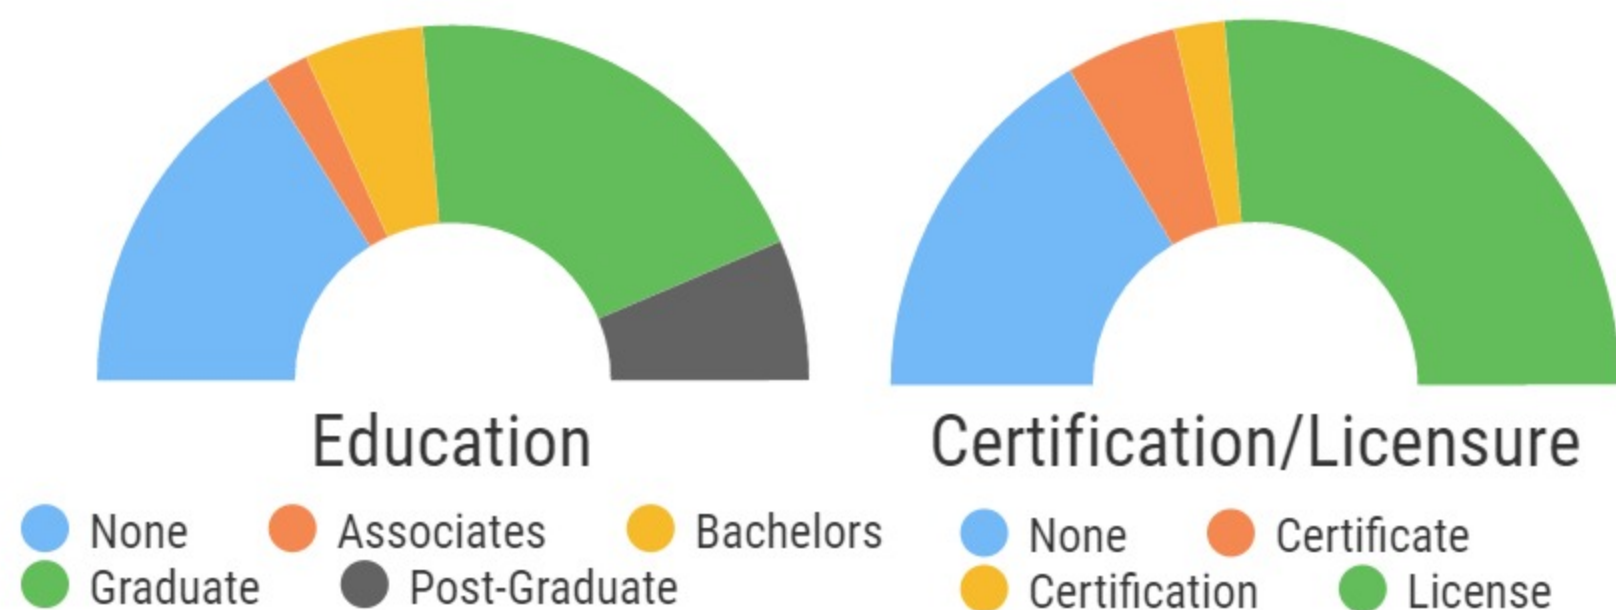

survey responses have been received from psychological health professionals

These respondents serve as:

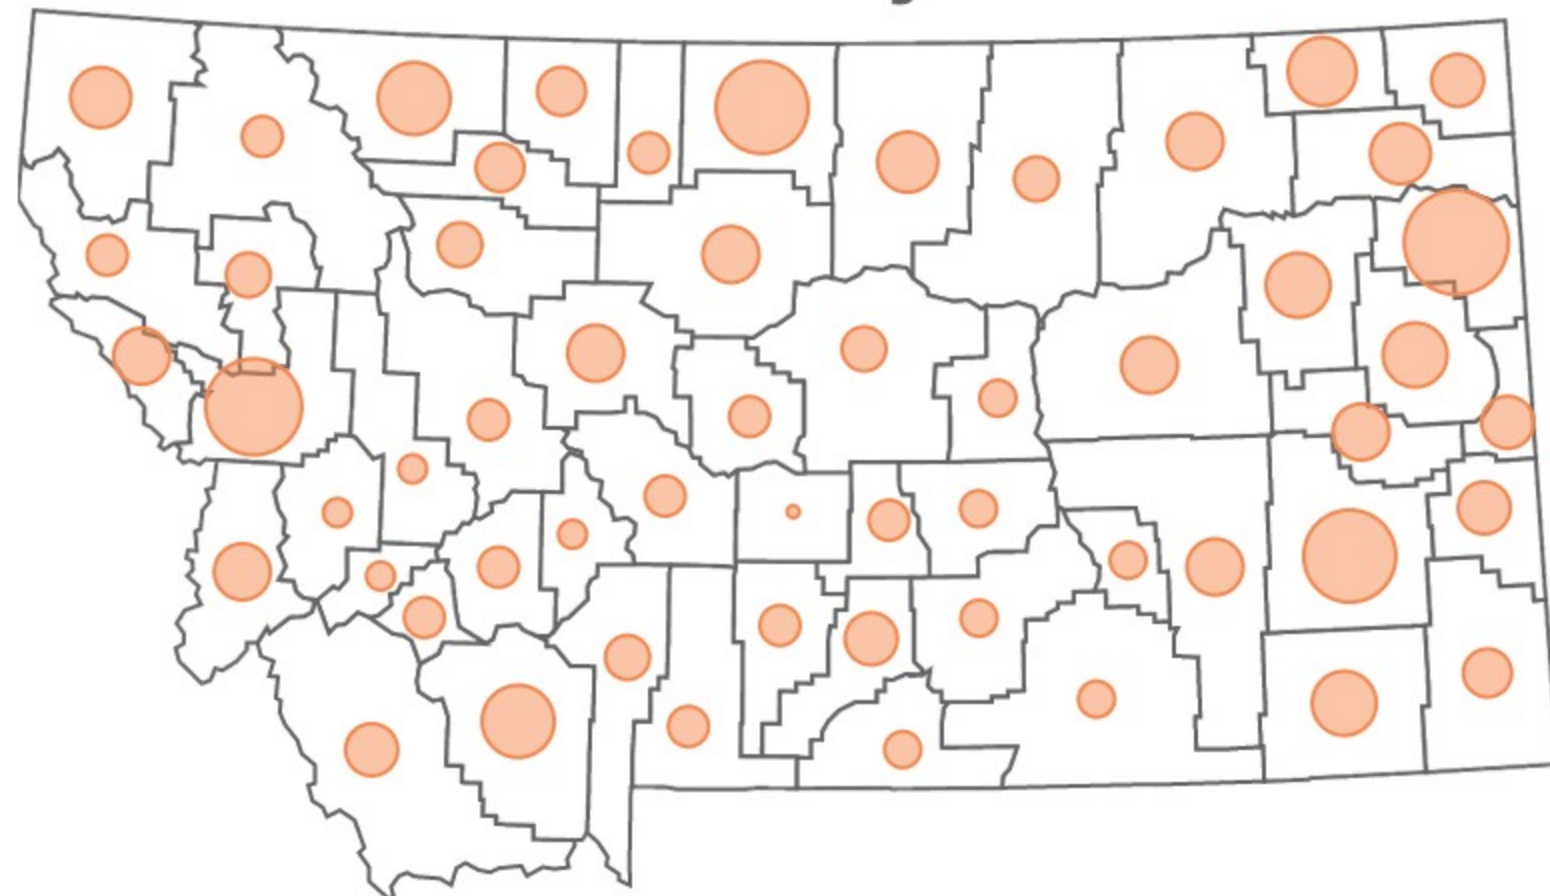

Respondent's Qualifications

16%

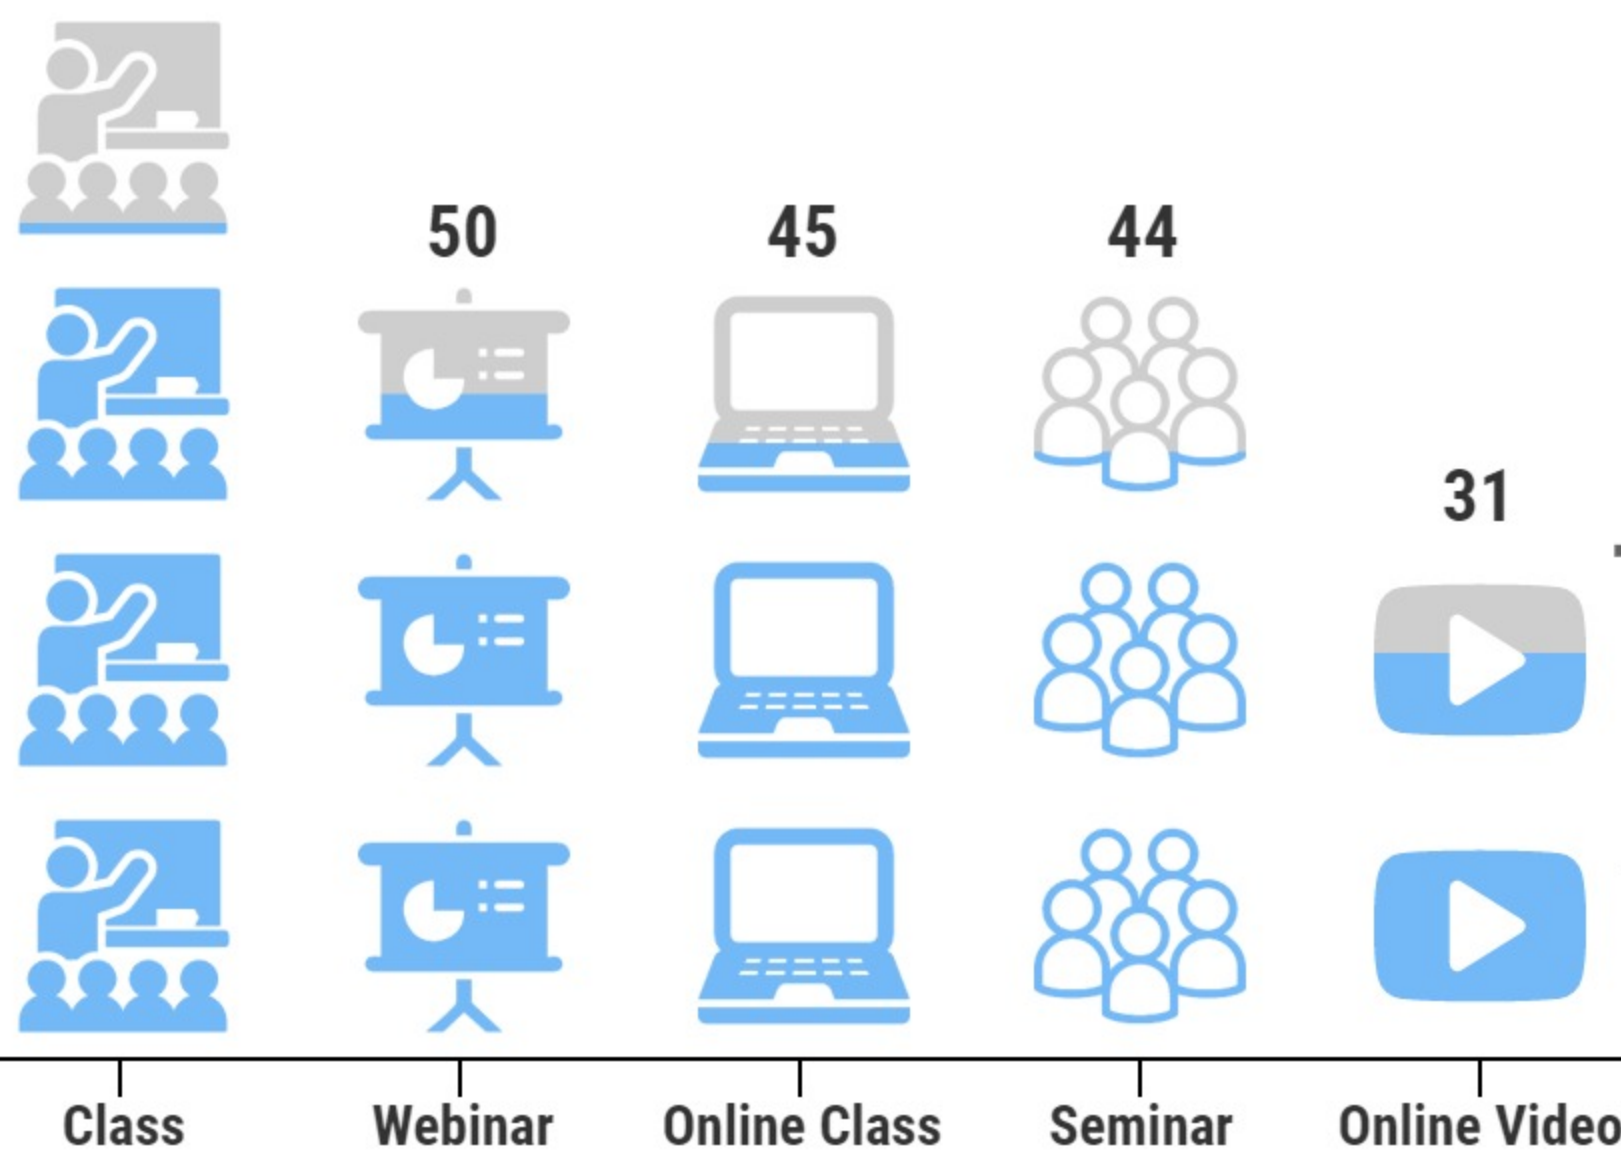

of respondents have taken disaster psychological health training in the past

Service Providers by Jurisdiction

Preferred method of training delivery

61 Number of respondents who preferred each method

75%

of respondents would be interested in taking disaster psychological health training